PROUD OF CANADA

Some weeks ago we reported the death of Private J. H. Bradling, one of the Meadow Creek heroes. His wife, Mrs. Bradling, returned to Claresholm from England on Monday last, after a rather exciting trip, very much pleased to be in Canada again, and especially in Alberta. She was little disappointed with conditions in the Old Country, but was greatly struck with the beauty of the country and she enjoyed herself very much. Everything is performed with the greatest secrecy and according to law and order.

While in England, Mrs. Bradling lived mostly with her husband's parents at Ventnor, Isle of Wight. She also visited London and several other cities in England.

While visiting in London, she witnessed the parade of the Great Anzac Corps troops through that city and asserts that it was a most inspiring sight and something of a wonder and amusement to many of the English people.

An experience never to be forgotten by her was the witnessing of a night attack by German aeroplanes over the south-east sector of London. Air battles, she is a never-failing source of interest to the people of London, and brings no real profit to the enemy.

Mrs. Bradling frequently witnessed the departure from the Isle of Wight of transports, laden with soldiers bound for the battlefields of Europe. The sight of these departing troops was decidedly thrilling, but caused many a heart-ache. Seemingly the soldiers were light hearted and gay, and without a care in the world. They go to their grim duty with a song and a laugh and leave the other fellow to do the worrying.

In regard to the newspaper reports of soldiers' wives being sent back to Canada, it seems that this is not quite correct. The truth of the matter is that many have been trying to get back for some time now, but owing to the lack of passenger boats, which are utilized for work of more material interest to the country, they are not allowed to book passage only at stated intervals, and even then only for urgent reasons.

As an illustration of the secrecy of movements in England, under present conditions, Mrs. Bradling was given only two days' notice before sailing for Canada. She was not told the name of her boat or the hour of its departure. On arriving at London she was instructed to go to the Liverpool and there get particulars. Mrs. Bradling had been booked for passage since last July, and so were many others. She left Liverpool on the Metagama, which was accompanied by a troopship and a gunboat, to the mouth of the St. Lawrence, when the convoys left for Halifax and the Metagama proceeded to Montreal.

For three days after sailing all passengers wore life belts in readiness for any emergency. It seems that for a time, while off the coast of Ireland, the Metagama was followed by two German submarines which, when sighted by the gunboat, were made short work of and their day's work was done. While the chase was on the excitement on board was intense. Only those who have been through it can realize what it means. On board the ship were 1700 wounded and discharged soldiers and officers. There were also 300 children aboard, a third of whom were under 6 months old.

For the present, Mrs. Bradling will reside at the home of Mrs. John Oliver on the Blair Knave ranch, about 25 miles west of town, in the Meadow Creek district.

Petition Filed To Unseat Dr. Stanley, M.L.A.

G. N. McLaren, an elector of the High River district, Saturday filed a petition praying that Dr. G. D. Stanley, of that riding be unseated from the legislature on the ground that his election was secured through bribery and corruption. G. A. Turner, Calgary, is acting as solicitor for Mr. McLaren. The document alleges that the electors on the part of Dr. Stanley, and his agents during the recent campaign. The sum of $500 was deposited with the petition.

Military Life Health-Giving

Many Men Reach and Retain
New Standard of Health in
Camp and Field

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—That the average healthy man grows quickly to enjoy military camp life has been proved up to the hilt since Canada entered the war. The outdoor exercises afford scope for much athletic enjoyment, so that many men become and remain more healthy after entering the army than they have ever before been.

Soldiers must be healthy, and one of the aims of military training pending service at the front is to bring the men up to the highest stage of physical efficiency. All their accommodations are designed to be most sanitary and healthful and they are constantly encouraged to take part in physical exercises.

Intercontinental Food Control

Boron Rhonda has issued a statement explaining Great Britain's plans for food control.

Food regulations in Great Britain are much more drastic than those on this side of the Atlantic. Nevertheless they are voluntarily, not compulsory, observed by householders and others. "If voluntary measures fail," says Lord Rhonda, "I shall have no compunction in putting the nation on compulsory rationing." This crisply defines the spirit of Great Britain. Self-restraint and self-sacrifice are the keynote of the nation's attitude. Men, women and children are proud to do their part in saving food and in increasing production. In both directions the national effort is sustained at a supremely high pitch.

Boron Rhonda, through the Food Administrator of the United States, and the Food Controller for Canada, has called upon both these countries to rise to the occasion.

That it must meet prompt and full response. Should Canadians fail to emulate Great Britain then all the sacrifice, all the devotion of Great Britain's people will have gone for naught. It remains for Canadians to make effective the efforts of the Old Country.

The whole of Boron Rhonda's message is significant. That he depends upon Canadians is evident. In effect he says—Price-fixing must be international, intercontinental. This is a real juncture of international and intercontinental trade relations.

Each country must of necessity regard the others as partners and refrain from setting apart with reference to them. Mr. Hoover, Mr. Haun and I have been made responsible for food control in our respective countries. Food control for each must be adjusted to the requirements of all. Therefore we must work together to accomplish our ends. Our people will have reason to know that profiteering will be wiped out—that it is not fast disappearing—and that where high prices continue to exist they are to be attributed to war conditions.

Comprehensive plans have been developed whereby all international purchases of necessary foodstuffs are to be pooled and proportionately allocated to Great Britain and her allies. All such contract prices are to be strictly regulated. "Unless prices are fair," Lord Rhonda asserts, "An unnecessary burden is placed upon the backs of the allied governments and consumers, American and Canadian taxpayers, and reactively on every food consumer in America for the sake of a small section of the community."

It is only with Canada's unstinted help that Boron Rhonda's plans can be brought to fruition.

"The world peril is not the submarine," says the British Food Controller, "but diminishing harvests and wasting herds."

What He Wanted To Know

They were having an argument as to whether it was correct to say of a hen she is "setting" or "hatching," and not being able to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion, they decided to submit the problem to farmer Giles.

"My friends," said he "that don't interest me at all. What I want to know when I hear a hen cackle is whether she is laying or lysing."—Tribune.

IF YOU DON'T BELIEVE THIS, GO OUT WEARING A SOILED COLLAR, A FRAZZLED TIE, A "BUM" HAT AND A "SEEDY" SUIT OF CLOTHES AND TRY TO GET A JOB. EVEN FROM ONE OF YOUR OLD FRIENDS, YOU'LL GET A QUICK, SURE TURN DOWN.

Importance of Canada's Effort

Ottawa, Oct. 4th.—Figures up to August 31, 1917, show that 431,446 Canadians had enlisted in the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Canada is represented on many fields. From inland transport workers, of whom one thousand are Canadians and who, amongst other things, help to take supply barges up the river of the Far East, to aviators flying over the battle fields; from the 1500 Canadian nurses of the 1560 are Canadians, this country has contributed an important part of the Allied war effort.

As to the work women is doing, it is interesting to note that 1,801 Canadian nurses have gone overseas in the Canadian Army Medical Corps service and 314 in Queen Alexandra's Imperial Military Nursing Service. This, of course, is apart from the enormous accomplishments of women's patriotic and social service societies all over the country.

Canada's strength as a belligerent nation is shown rather strikingly in the realm of finance. Whereas Great Britain has loaned millions to a number of Allied nations, she has received from Canada $100,000,000 more than she has been asked to give.

Treas.—Verda Workman, from abroad report a widespread recognition in other countries of Canada's importance and value to the Allies as the final stages of the war seem to approach.

SCHOOL NEWS

The High School held a meeting on September 21st, in the assembly hall of the school, for the purpose of organizing a Literary Society for the coming year. Mr. Williams acted as chairman, and the following candidates were elected for their respective offices:

Hon. President—Rev. W. J. Kidd. President—Charles Ludlow. Vice Pres.—Hazel Hudson. 2nd Vice Pres.—Harold Roby. 3rd Vice Pres.—Norma Holmes. Secretary—Jennie Morrow.

Treas.—Verda Workman. Social committee and Working committee, two pupils were chosen from each grade and were as follows:

SOCIAL GRADE WORKING
Marie Morrow XII. Myrtle Boyles
Vice Pres.—Hazel Hudson
Jennie Morrow XI. Willard Hale
Jennie Morrow X. Arthur Haig
Kathleen Eilanson IX. Marie Eilanson

The Literary Society, last year, proved a great success, and many enjoyed the numerous and engaging meetings by the association. It also proved very instructive, especially as we belonged to the Debating Society. We feel confident that our society will be as great, if not greater, success this year than last, as our officers have the confidence of the pupils and are efficient, but the responsibility rests not only with the officers but with the society as a whole, and if each one of us has our part, the work will be better and the enjoyment great.—J. M. See.

Animals Under Fire

Cats Do Not Mind Machine Guns or Shells

Different animals will act differently under heavy bombardment, the same as different men will act differently. Dogs, as a rule, have shown great distress when shells burst near them and how pitifully. On the other hand they have been known to dash away from the front a few minutes after the first explosion. In the infantry line, barking and apparently enjoying the noise. Cats don't seem to mind what they are subjected to or machine guns are trained on them, as long as they are not hurt. They eat and food when they are hungry. There have been instances of lost dogs and cats actually venturing into British trenches during an engagement. Some of them lived in cottages near the firing line, others strayed a little distance. A west country veterinary contingent was attracted to the thick of a fight by a black cat, which survived a bombardment that killed many men, and has been lived in a cottage in England with an identification disc around its neck.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

Mothers who keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house may feel that the lives of their little ones are reasonably safe during the last months of pregnancy. Stomach troubles, colic, indigestion and diarrhoea are common to the newborn babe. They are especially good in summer because they regulate the bowels and keep the stomach sweet and pure. They are sold in the medical stores and in boxes at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Heroes Learn Trades

How Canada Cares for Her Disabled Soldiers—New Chance for

A corner of the cobblers' room of one of Canada's military convalescent hospitals has been turned into a barber's shop. The barber, of course, is a soldier, but a soldier who has exchanged the bayonet for the razor. The cobblers, too, are soldiers in the same situation, who have exchanged the rifle and bayonet for the hammer and awl. That busy room, with cobblers at their benches, is a fine illustration of the astonishing variety of methods employed by the military authorities to equip Canada's disabled defenders with the tools of a useful trade. It is a most desirable feature of the program, for it is almost impossible for one occupation to be suitable for all. There is always another to try; and one of the main objects of the commission is to discover what each man is fit to do.

Constancy

When Masculine Constancy Turned a Sudden Somersault

A story about Lord Kitchener, who was often called "the old bachelors' friend" in the world, is being told. A young member of the House of Commons, who was in India about a fortnight in order to go home and marry, had been listening to him patiently, then he said:

"Kitchener, you're not yet married. Wait a year, if then you still care to do this thing you shall have me to marry."

The year passed. The officer once more professed his request.

"After thinking it over for twelve months," said Kitchener, "you still say 'No'."

"Yes, sir."

"Very well, you shall have me, your father. And frankly, my boy, I scarcely thought there would be any constancy in the masculine world."

Kitchener, the story continues, marched to the door, but turned, and said he was leaving. "Thank you, sir, only it's not the same man."

The Argonaut.

Science and the War

Canada Will Need to Use All Experiments When Peace Comes

Addressing the Eugene Clark Toronto, Prof. McEwen, of the physics department of the University of Toronto, and member of one of the English war inventions boards, urged similar development of scientific energy in Canada for war purposes. Attention was paid by the speaker to conditions in the war, when he said, the national debt would be very large. He stated that the scientists turn their attention to the development of scientific energy in Canada for war purposes. To do this he advocated the further development of the national standards of Potash for fertilization found in British Columbia and the utilization of our water power to make this into fertilizer. Prof. McEwen asked the business men and manufacturers of the city to co-operate with the Royal Canadian Institute, which he was the president, to further the practical use of science both in the war and in the business life of the nation.

Hard on the Lions

Sterling Value Fortifies Its Beauty

"Looks" alone never sold a good motor car. While the Gray Dory could hardly be improved for beauty, nor for a personality, a Fifth Avenue elegance, that make it welcome on exclusive thoroughfares anywhere—the man who wants a car is the man for whom it was originally built. Its cylinders are cooled independently; it is the only car in its price-class carrying the Westinghouse electric system; clutch and brake are combined in single foot-pedal. The Gray Dory crankshaft and rear axle are extra heavy; fenders and bonnet are a-squared; proof; and in equipment it is complete to the last detail.

The Gray Dory is a mark on the radiator of a car in the stamp of worth—the symbol of motor car goodness. It is the responsibility of its manufacturer, the continued service it will render to you, and the abiding value of the mechanical parts which compose it. It is the stable pledge of the maker for the satisfaction which his product will give to users!

RETURN KICKS

The world's champion kicker is an ass. Noisy blames him for kicking; he's just made that way. Almost every town has one of his kind, and usually he is a miserable disgruntled individual who sees no good in anybody but himself. Castigate him, as we may, he however, serves a useful purpose in stirring up public officials and public men to a sense of their responsibilities.

The manager of the Rex and the postman probably deserved all they got, and the editor is quite willing to acknowledge that he has been somewhat lenient in reporting the doings of the town council.

Since the last issue of the Review-Advertiser the editor has had the pleasure of waiting upon the mayor and various members of the council and one did not seem to be exceptionally busy either with their own business or with the affairs of the town. Each and all were ready to talk of what had been done, and what would be done, and with only one exception all talked in an optimistic manner of the financial condition of the town.

Most of the present members of the council have served as councillors when the town was on the verge of bankruptcy and when many of our business men expected to see the utilities in the hands of a receiver. By economy and business sense they have been able to pay off some $170,000 of indebtedness, to keep the water and light utilities in service and to make considerable headway with the grading and drainage of our roads. A careful inspection of the work that has been done during this summer will convince anyone that at least the right steps are being taken to improve the condition of our streets and to furnish us with proper drainage. Next summer it is the intention of the council to connect up all the streets with the main drainage ditch which has been dug this summer, and it is believed that we will then have our streets greatly improved.

The gas has recently been connected with the power house and in a short time it will supply the necessary fuel for the engines.

The dam at the creek has been repaired and further work will be done as soon as men and teams can be secured.

It is unfortunate that Engineer Parkes has failed to take advantage of the franchise that was given him by the vote of the ratepayers. The trouble seems to be the lack of financial backing. The money that had been promised was not available when needed and it now looks as if the town will have to continue to look after its own water and light. It is hardly fair to blame the Council for this. All the facts known to the council were clearly set before the ratepayers. The whole fault seems to rest with the engineers who have since found that they did not possess, as they thought, the confidence of the men who were to furnish the funds. Had the first franchise gone through, and been approved by the ratepayers, no doubt all matters would have been settled and the engineers are concerned. But with no assets and nothing but a year lease it was hardly to be expected that business men would furnish the large amount needed to carry out the provisions of the franchise. It has proven as we said before the vote was taken "too good to be true."

The town will now have to attend to its own affairs and possibly the lesson we have just had will bear fruit in better business methods and in greater economy in the management of our utilities.

Claresholm is at the beginning of its busy days. Farmers have now greater confidence in the country. Many having made their pile in buying homes in the town. The educational facilities here will draw the population, and as the town revenue grows it will be able to provide improvements in the way of better streets and sidewalks, and, in time, a good sewage system.

The councilors here have no salary. They do their work gratuitously and willingly for the honor of the position. They deserve encouragement rather than censure, censure instead of kicks. If the town kicker would like to take one of the vacant seats at the next election if he will reveal his identity we will furnish him with a seat with that august body.

THANKSGIVING

Another year of almost unbounded prosperity has come to almost every part of Alberta, and particularly to this district. Crops unsuited in value have made many independent, who, a few years ago, were without a dollar. There is no place in the world where everyone has more reason to thankfulness than right here.

"Last we forget," let us remind ourselves of the sorrow and suffering, the starvation and horrors that have for three years stalked through Europe, and remember that the high cost of wheat and farm products, which has brought so much wealth to Alberta is due to the existence of those conditions.

Our thank offering should be to deny ourselves luxuries and to assist in bringing the war to a successful close by turning our surplus cash into the government war bonds for the prosecution of the war.

Remember also in a practical way the Red Cross, the Patriotic Fund, the Belgian Relief. Let them all benefit because of your property and your gratitude. Let "Thanksgiving" this year be a time of active planning as to the best means to distribute the wealth intrusted to us by a beneficent creator.

U. S. Cuts Steel Prices in Half

Steel prices in the United States were cut in half today when President Wilson approved of a scale of quotations fixed in a voluntary agreement made by producers with the war industries board. The general public, as well as the American and Allied governments will share in the reduction, which go into immediate effect and the agreement provides that producers shall not reduce wages. The prices will obtain until January, 1918, to be revised then if events show they are inequitable.

Military Service Act, 1917

Explanatory Announcement by the Minister of Justice

THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT has received the assent of the Governor-General and is now part of the law of the land. It will be enforced accordingly, and the patriotic and good sense of the people can be relied upon to support it. Resistance to its enforcement, however, by word or act must and will be regarded, as resistance to any other law in force must be.

Reinforcements under the Military Service Act
Immediately required

It is the intention of the Government immediately to exercise the power which the Act confers and to call out men for military service in order to provide reinforcements for the Canadian forces. This is necessary since the military authorities report that the reserves available or in sight for reinforcement will shortly be exhausted unless this step be taken.

First call limited to men between 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917.

The present call will be limited to men not in the schedule of exemption who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917, are at least twenty years of age, and were born on or after January 1, 1885. Of this class all those will be entitled to conditional exemption whose services in their present occupations, agricultural, industrial or other, are essential in the national interest, and whose business or domestic responsibilities are such that serious hardship would ensue if their services be required. Considerable scruples based upon a prohibition of conscription by the articles of faith of the religious denomination to which men being called will also be respected. The men first required to serve will consequently be those who can be called upon with the least disturbance of the economic and social life of the country.

Civil Tribunals to deal with exemptions

Questions of exemption will be determined, not by the military authorities or by the Government, but by civil tribunals composed of representative men who are familiar with local conditions in the communities in which they serve, who will generally have personal knowledge of the economic and family reasons which those whose cases come before them have had for refusing their services and who will be able sympathetically to estimate the weight and importance of such reasons. Provincial Appellate Tribunals constituted from the existing judiciary of the respective provinces will be provided to correct mistakes made by Local Tribunals, and a Central Appellate Tribunal for the whole of Canada, selected from among the present Judges of the Supreme Court of Canada, will be constituted in order that identical principles may be applied throughout the country. In this way every man may rest assured of the fair and full consideration of his circumstances and the national requirements both civil and military.

Proclamation will announce the day

A proclamation will issue calling out the bachelors and widowers referred to and fixing a day on or before which every man must report for service to the military authorities unless he has before that day made an application for exemption.

How to apply for exemption

Applications for exemption may be made by written notice on forms which will be available at every post office, and will be transmitted free of postage. They will not, however, be required to be made in this way, but may be presented by the applicants in person to the exemption tribunals. The cases of those who have given written notice in advance will take precedence, and appearance in person will therefore be likely to involve considerably more inconvenience than to the men concerned, so that it is recommended that advantage be generally taken of the facilities for written application.

Ottawa, September 11, 1917.

Exemption Tribunals in all parts of Canada

The local exemption tribunals will be constituted with the least delay possible, consistent with the selection of representative individuals to compose them, and the instruction of the members in their duties. There will be more than one thousand of such tribunals throughout Canada, each consisting of two members, one of whom will be nominated by a Joint Committee of Parliament, and the other by one of the Judges of the existing Courts. Every effort will be made by the wide distribution of tribunals, and by provision where necessary for their sitting in more than one place, to minimize the inconvenience to which men will be put in obtaining the disposition of their cases.

A Registrar will be appointed in each Province, who will be named in the proclamation and to whom evidence may be addressed. Each Provincial Registrar will transmit to the appropriate tribunal the applications for exemption which have been submitted in advance of the sitting, and men who have sent these in will not be required to attend the tribunals until notified to do so. Other applicants should attend personally on the tribunal without notice.

How to report for service

Men who do not desire to claim exemption will report to the military authorities for service either by mail or in person at any time after the issue of the proclamation. Forms of report by mail will be found in all post offices, and, like applications for exemption, will be transmitted free of postage.

Early report advantageous

No man who reports for service will, although he may be medically examined and passed as fit, be required to go into camp or join a battalion until after a day fixed by the proclamation sufficiently late to permit of the disposition by the local tribunals of most, if not all, of the applications for exemption which may come before them. This advantage will be gained by delaying or disadvantage incurred by prompt report for service on the part of those who do not intend to apply for exemption.

Facilities for immediate medical examination

Immediately upon the issue of the proclamation, medical boards will be set up at every mobilization centre for the examination of men who report for service or who, subject to their right within the time limited to apply for exemption, desire to have their physical fitness determined in order to allow any doubt as to their physical condition, or to know definitely, and in advance whether there is a possibility of their services being required. Certificates of physical fitness issued by these Medical Boards will be accepted without any further investigation by exemption tribunals when they sit. Men found physically fit who have not reported for service may nevertheless apply for exemption on any of the prescribed grounds, including even their physical condition if dissatisfied with the Medical Board's conclusion.

Notice to join the colors

As reinforcements are required, notice to report to the nearest mobilization centre will be given from time to time in the men found liable and passed as fit for service. Disobedience of such notice will render the military service, or so report subsequently for duty when called upon, will be imposed indirectly by the civil magistrates; offenders, however, will remain liable for the performance of their military duties notwithstanding any civil punishment which may be imposed and will be liable to military punishment in cases in which civil proceedings are not taken.

Watch for the Proclamation

Notice of the day appointed for the making of a claim for exemption or for report for military service will be published as widely as possible, but as no personal notice will be given until the day when called upon, have so reported themselves or claimed exemption, men possibly conscious neglect may involve the loss by them of important privileges and rights.

CHAS. J. DOHERTY,

Minister of Justice.

Brief Mention

A union government conference will take place at Ottawa on October 5th. Hon. J. A. Calder states that he is in Ottawa for that purpose, and that an agreement had been reached on the part of Western Liberals to negotiate further with Sir Robert Borden.

Lloyd George in addressing a crowd of poor people in the south-west district of London which was recently raided by the Hun, shouted to the crowd, in answer to a demand for specialists attending Germany. "We will give it all back to them, and we will give it to them soon. We shall bomb Germany with compound interest." The crowd cheered the promise of the premier wildly. The premier had just completed a tour of the area damaged in the raids with Viscount French, commander of the home defenses.

The elevators strike at Fort William was still on this morning (Thursday). The effect is being felt all over the prairie in the holding up of the movement of grain. Men who go on strike in these critical times should be treated as traitors. German influences are at work everywhere fomenting unrest among the workers and encouraging strikes.

This is the smallest amount of work accomplished by our Red Cross. On the ladies' season is over, and help in a more substantial way. The need is so great with winter closing in, and surely our brave men deserve every consideration from us.

The following letter has just been received from Her Excellency, the Duchess of Devonshire, Pres. of the Canadian Red Cross.

The ever-widening theatre of war involves an ever increasing call upon our resources, which depend entirely upon the voluntary offerings of a generous community."

As patron and President of our Canadian Red Cross I recommend the great cause to the women of Canada who have already responded so nobly to former appeals.

While Mrs. Emma Clark was at Oak hill attending the funeral of her husband, some one went to the pig pen and cut the head off one of the fifteen fat hogs. The head was left behind and the carcass taken away.

The gentry was entered and some grain stolen. Two empty bags without marks upon them, were left behind. In a pen nearer the house there were five three months old pigs, and three of these are missing. No body was home except the children, the oldest being 10 years old.

NOTE AND COMMENT

BY THE TOWN KICKER

Gale Henry, To Her Too Ardent Admirer, "The Town Kicker".
"Ah! Dearest heart, would that I could see your face. How I would revel in polishing the heel on your neck, and in making hair cloth shirts to tickle thy back."

"Heavily" as the old saying goes—"sooty skin deep, but in my case my beautiful face and form define covers a multitude of sins."

It was hardly necessary to tell us that, Gale!—The Kicker.

"Ach, my lover! Never did I in my fondest dreams, dreamed in the backwash of Universal City, under the rummer bean poles and the bright moon, bonus suspect that in the splendor did and romantic wind-swept city of Clareholm I had such an adoring swain. Farewell!"

"You're thru Ee tenacity."
"P.S.—I pray thee, O Kicker, meet me once more on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 5th or 6th, for a fond but well good bye."

[Lights dim and slow, low music.]

No, Gale. "There better that we part without meeting again. Believe me it's better so. I would not like to show my feelings over your departure—and you would not like it either. Good-bye, Gale!"

[Curtain, please.]

One of the most popular amusements for the rough-necks of Clareholm is to watch a stylishly dressed young lady, wearing high-heeled shoes, pick her way over the sidewalks of Clareholm. The girls of the town have become somewhat expert and can always play "safety first" for the heels of their shoes, but strangers are up against it from the start. The space between the boards is wide enough to admit a small heel and bring a pedestrian to a full stop if she should happen to step on one of these cracks. What between the holes in the sidewalk and nails sticking up an inch above the boards, the young woman who can keep heels on her shoes is something of a genius and deserves an iron cross.

Acclimated

Harrison was out walking with his new bull pup when he met a friend. "That's a fine-looking brute," said the friend, who was an admirer of hound dogs. "Where do you keep him?"

"Oh, up in my room," said Harrison.

"Don't you know that it's unhealthy to keep a dog in your room?" asked the friend.

"Oh, he's used to it now," Harrison answered.

School Girls' Athletics

The Athletic Association of the girls held a meeting early this time to elect their officers for the coming year:

President—Myrtle Bowles.
Vice-Pres.—Eva Johansen.
Secretary—Myrtle Morrow.
Treas.—Carina Vadnas.

Grade representatives — Myrtle Morrow, Norma Holmes, Jessie Lyndon, Ruth Annable.

A very good basketball team was chosen last year to play the other towns. They were—Annie Elverum (Captain), Hazel Hutton, Minnie Holmes, Myrtle Bowles, Jessie Lyndon, Carina Vadnas. This team had, a very fast game with High River last Saturday, at Clareholm, winning by a score of 14-5. Many of the town people were interested spectators and the girls received plenty of applause.

After the game the High School girls gave a tea in honor of their victors, which proved a great success. The return game is going to be played at High River on Thanksgiving Day, and we hope that our players may meet with the same success as they did on Saturday. We think they will as the team has great faith in Captain Elverum. They are now working on their success to Miss Reid, who has been coaching us since the beginning of the term. She acted as referee for half time at the game on Saturday. Miss Elliott, of High River, took the second half. Negotiations are under way for a basketball game at Lethbridge during the convention.—M.M., Secretary.

Our Day—October 18th, 1917

A MESSAGE from His Honour the Lieutenant Governor, Vice-Patron of the Canadian Red Cross Society:

People of Alberta, once again the British Red Cross Society have appealed to us for help.

Not alone are the needs of our sick, wounded, and imprisoned sailors and soldiers to be attended to, but also those of our low fortunate A.E.F., Belgians and Serbs. These numerous calls for assistance have seriously depleted the funds of the Parent Society.

The failure to obtain a liberal response to the Red Cross appeal will precipitate the restriction and curtailment of the Society's operations at the time when the needs of suffering humanity are much greater than at any previous period of the war.

Can we, for very humanity's sake, have the Red Cross work hampered for the lack of funds?

Anxious Great Britain is waiting for the answer to this call; waiting for October 18th, when in every corner of the Empire her sons will send their ringing answer back across the seas. What will the answer be of Canada—Canada who has already shown her interpretation of the glory of British citizenship? What will be the answer of Alberta? What, indeed, will be the answer of your community?

People of Alberta, do your best for "OUR DAY."

R. G. BRETT, Lieut. Governor
